The journey begins with 2 nights in the old western Norwegian capital city of BERGEN. Bergen is home to the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Bryggen as well as being the birthplace of Edvard Grieg and the northbound boarding point for the Hurtigruten fleet. You can also explore some of the city's other attractions which include outdoor markets, great restaurants, tours inland and a funicular railway to Mount Fløyen where you get a panoramic view of the town.

After your 2 nights in Bergen, you embark on your Hurtigruten coastal voyage. HURTIGRUTEN ships are amongst the most important means of transportation along Norway's twisting, rugged coastline for locals and visitors alike. You take a 2-night trip heading north to the town of Trondheim. From 1st June - 31st August the route goes via one of Norway's most beautiful and longest fjords, the awe-inspiring Geirangerfjord, now established as an UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Disembarking at Trondheim early in the morning, you have a full day to explore this medieval city whose attractions include the Nidaros Cathedral and the enthralling Ringve Music Museum. The next day you travel via train through the stunning Gudbrandsdalen to the capital city of OSLO where you stay for 2 nights, exploring the city and its attractions to your heart's content. Not to be missed is a visit to the Kon-Tiki Museum, the Fram Polar Museum and the Vigeland Sculpture Park.
